The Ten Commandments
Thou Shalt Not Kill
Exodus 20:1-17
Guest Preacher: Doug Sibcy

Sermon Summary

Jesus comes and does so much more than replace a law. Jesus comes and fulfills the law. Simply stated, the Word of God says in Exodus, "Thou Shalt Not Murder" and undoubtedly, we can agree on that. Jesus comes and raises the bar and commands that we love one another and to have no hatred towards one another.

Diving Into The Message

1. What is the one thing that makes you angry and will send you from 0-60 in 4 seconds on the anger scale? Example: Driving in the fast lane.
2. What is the most difficult thing for you to forgive someone of?
3. What is the difference in murder and a lawful killing?
4. What are the things that someone does where their punishment should be to be put to death?
5. What seed lies within you, that if left there, could germinate into something more? Maybe hatred?
6. What is one take-away from today's message and how will you apply it to your life?

Prayer Action

1. There are 103 unreached people groups in North, Central, and South America. The Lord is opening doors for our church to be a part in reaching these peoples. Pray for our exploratory team who are in Querétaro City, Mexico to prayer walk, meet with local leaders, and seek a partnership to fulfill the Great Commission.
2. Pray that we would love one-another well as an act of obedience that honors God greatly.
